COUNCIL BUSINESS MEETING, 2ND TUESDAY OF THE MONTH

Volume XXXVII

October 2018

Number 10

FROM THE GRAND KNIGHT

Brother Knights,

Where does the time go? Fall is here and summer has gone by the wayside. Softball and volleyball are over for the year. The Darts League will be with us now. Darts players have a great time and add a lot to our club fun.

Big things are happening with Friday night chicken and Sunday morning breakfast. Be sure to come on out and enjoy what we have. You just cannot beat the food and prices. We have great people working at both events. A big thank you to everyone for the work you do. Thank you also to all the people who come out and enjoy the great food.

By the time you get this letter, the Tootsie Roll Drive will be over and hopefully be a huge success. Thanks to all who work on it, collecting for the handicapped.

On November 2, we will have our Memorial Mass for our members who passed away in the last year. It will be held at St. Peter Church with our chaplain, Father Aaron Kuhn, the celebrant. Please attend to honor our deceased members. It is a very impressive celebration of Mass.

I'm still not sure if we have enough applications for a First Degree at our meeting on October 9. We will come to a decision shortly.

Remember, come out to the K of C Club, enjoy and support it. We'll see you there.

Fraternally yours,
 Bob Klingele,
 Grand Knight

FOURTH DEGREE NEWS

Our chicken dinners are going very well, along with the breakfasts on Sunday. Thanks to all the volunteers and thanks to you who come out and support us.

Please remember if you are one of the set-up people for Mass for Shut-Ins and you can't make it for your assigned date, please try and get an alternate person to take your place. Thanks to all the set-up teams. Without you we would not be able to televise the Mass for Shut-ins.

As always, please keep in your prayers all of the people who are homebound, in hospitals, or in nursing homes in and around our area.

Also please pray for our service men and women serving here and overseas. And for the flood victims in North Carolina.

Next Fourth Degree meeting Tuesday, October 16, at 7:00 p.m. at the club.

Remember the Memorial Mass on November 2, St. Peter Church.

Your Faithful Navigator,
 Terry Obert

Perspective from the Pew

What is the importance of Values and Morals? Sounds like a no-brainer for us, a people of faith. They are the code we live by in a civil and just society. They are what we use to guide our interactions with others, with our friends and family, in our businesses and professional behavior. Our values and morals are a reflection of our spirituality; our character. They are what we hope to model for our children and the children around us, because children do watch us as they develop their own sense of right and wrong. Everyone knows their importance, don't they?

Well, maybe not. One only has to watch "Reality TV Shows" to find evidence to the contrary. Every day in the news we hear about crooked politicians, greedy CEOs, insider trading, embezzling evangelists caught in "love triangles," "good Christians" doing very bad things. On talk-radio, news shows, at our churches, all around us, we hear about the decline of values, morals, ethics, civility, manners and, of course, common decency. People talk nostalgically about the "good old days" when Americans lived according to a set of standards of which they could be proud.

So have we really become a nation without values and morals? I don't think so. It's just that everyone has their own ideas about which values and morals are the ones we should follow. The choices are as varied as our country is heterogeneous. One only has to look inside the different church denominations to see the diversity of concepts regarding moral behavior. That realization doesn't stop each of us from believing that our particular values and morals comprise the "right" set – the set everyone else should accept as well.

Another problem is that we, as human beings, are inconsistent in most things – including our morals and values. We tend to compartmentalize them; stressing one type while disregarding another. Some people seem willing to overlook unethical business practices while condemning sexual behaviors and attitudes. Others overlook sexual behavior and attitudes while crying foul over shady business practices. Turning a blind eye upon specific immoral activity seems to happen frequently in politics, sports and in the church. At times, it would appear that morals and values are morals and values of convenience.

But, as people of faith, aren't we supposed to have a clear sense of morals and values? Aren't we supposed to be above all that hypocrisy and compartmentalizing? After all, the Bible offers many examples of morals and values; behavior we should aspire to. But they, like us, often appear contradictory and inconsistent. Unfortunately, as flawed human beings, we often fall short in our pursuit of faith and "good, Christian conduct." The same can be said of our pursuit of consistency in our morals and values. It is a difficult task made more difficult by the world around us.

In the end, however, the importance of determining our values and morals is still imperative. They are reflective of our own sense of right and wrong, our character and, more importantly, our spirituality.

While the world around us may spin out of control, children will continue to look to us for guidance in developing their own sense of what is important in life. And while we will never attain perfection and may never achieve consistency, a clear sense of moral and ethical standards is worth the effort. This begins with us, as parents, grandparents, aunts and uncles, teachers, clergy, and mentors, by being transparent, showing and explaining all, and hiding nothing, all done with the consent of parents.

After all is said and done, we must know the children are watching.

The Creation of Angels

In the beginning God created all the angels.

He made them all with free will.

Free will means that they have a choice.

They can choose to worship God or they can choose not to worship God.

God created the angel, Satan.

Satan was a very powerful angel.

Satan was an archangel.

Satan was a beautiful angel.

Satan decided that he did not want to worship God.

He wanted to be worshiped.

There were other angels that felt the same way as Satan and decided that they would follow him.

Satan wanted to rule.

He started arguing with God.

God told Satan that he could not rule. Satan got mad.

He started a fight in heaven.

God told him to leave heaven and take his followers with him.

God told Satan that he could not rule over the earth but he could rule under it.

God told St. Michael to do battle with Satan.

Satan was kicked out of heaven.

God won as He always does.

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle; be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil; may God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly host, by the power of God, thrust into hell Satan and all evil spirits who wander through the world for the ruin of souls.
